COSTLY REORGANIZATION.

They Object to Getting Only Fifty Per Cent While Morgan Gets a Hundred.

HE BUYS AT 73 BONDS WORTH 98.

They Object to the Syndicate Writing Off for Itself a Heavy Commission and Dividing $1,- 500,000 in Profits.

The plan for the reorganization of the Columbus, Hocking Valley & Toledo Railway Company, which has been announced by the syndicate, headed by J.
Pierpont Morgan, has raised a storm of protest among the security holders. It is estimated that the profits which will be realized by the syndicate will not be much less than $1,500,000.

The drastic treatment of the general mortgage 6 per cent bonds is particularly objected to. An opposition committee is already in process of formation to look after the interest of these bondholders. Many of the large insurance companies are interested, some of them having paid as high as 105 for the bonds in the open market.
The issue was of $2,000,000 on a joint mortgage of the railroad company and the Hocking Coal & Railroad Company.

Under the plan these bonds will be retired in exchange for 50 per cent of new preferred stock, whereas the 4 per cent bonds, which is a junior security, is given 100 per cent in preferred stock. It is understood that Mr. Morgan and his associates are the principal owners of the 4 per cent bonds, and that for this reason they are given the preference in the reorganization.

The plan provides for cash to the amount of $3,000,000 from the sale of securities (including payments for common and preferred stock). This amount of cash will be paid out in the following manner:

Assessment on preferred stock.....$17,500
Assessment on common stock.....580,000 Sale to the syndicate of $4,000,000 of new 4 1/2 per cent bonds at about 73.....2,942,500

Total.....$3,700,000

The purchase by the syndicate of these bonds at 73 is one of the points in the plan which has excited the greatest indignation. The committee claims that these bonds will be worth at least 98, which is 25 per cent above the price at which they are to be purchased. But this valuation, from the syndicate's standpoint, is merely for the benefit of the poor security holders, who must take these bonds or the other new shares or get nothing. It is really believed by those who have studied the plan, with the great reduction in fixed charges, that the new bonds will be worth par within a short time.
It is for this reason that the Morgan syndicate will buy at least 40 in the market, paying the company less than $2,000,000 for the lot.

In addition to the profit accruing to the syndicate from the purchase of bonds,
there is set apart as additional compensation $700,000 par value of the preferred stock of the new company. As a still further inducement for undertaking the arduous duties of reorganization, there is $500,- 000 which can be charged to expenses and contingencies. Estimating that half the expense account will fall into the lap of the committee and that the new preferred
stock will bring at least 40 in the market,
the profits to the syndicate will be approximately as follows:

Profit on $4,000,000 bonds.....$1,000,000
Cost of expenses.....250,000
Sale of preferred stock at 40.....250,000

Total.....$1,550,000

One of the principal complaints which the bondholders make is that they have no share in the reorganization profits. The holders of the 6 per cent bonds not only complain of this treatment, but insist that in view of the amount of money which the syndicate will receive it should waive some of its preferred stock commission in favor of these bondholders.

LEFT HIS WIFE HOMELESS.
Mrs. Patten, a Wanderer, Appeared in Court with a Baby in Her Arms.

are. Gladie Patten, a homeless woman of thirty,
who married a sick baby in her arms, excited much pity yesterday in the Len Avenue Police Court, Williamsburg, where she charged her husband,
James Patten, a "wood carter, with abandonment.
He is living with his mother at No. 743 Kent avenue.

Mrs. Patten has well-to-do relatives, who live in Greenpoint. Her marriage about ten years ago was one of the local events of the season. It is alleged that a few years after the marriage Patten
became jealous of his wife, and constant quarrelling caused a separation last summer. Patten returning to his mother and Mrs. Patten, ashamed to go to her relatives, began to associate with poor friends.
She inherited $500 last summer, and says Patten secured $300 of this.

Magistrate Kramer committed Patten in default of $300 bail.

RAPID TRANSIT PLANS.
Commission Discusses Its Memorial to the Legislature.

The Rapid Transit Commission met yesterday in session at the Chamber of Commerce and worked upon the memorial it will submit to the Legislature specifying the legislation it needs to enable it to accomplish the work for which it was created. The contents of the address to the Legislature are carefully kept secret. Heavy questions and a boom in Manhattan Railway stock were attributed to some quarters to something the commission had done to give that corporation more privileges, but it could not be discovered that the Commission really favors the company in its report.

Man Falls in a Fit and Starts a Fire.
A good deal of commotion was caused among the Amey street folks shortly after 5 o'clock last evening
by a fire which was the result of Frank Plin,
a painter employed in a paint shop on the third floor of No. 22 Amey street, falling in an epileptic fit while painting a sign. He was working by the light of a kerosene lamp which was upset, and fell on the floor. In turn upset can of benzine which took fire. The whole building was filled with fumes, who fled from the building, except Jenny Sheehan. He remained and extinguished the blaze.

Obituary.

yesterday of paralysis. He was principal of the Coleridge Industrial School there, was a member of the Connecticut legislature, and was a minister of the African Methodist Episcopal Church.

Harry Robinson, colored, more than forty years an engineer in the employ of the Erie and Perry Companies, died yesterday, at the age of eighty, at his home in Manhattan. He was an engineer on the ferryboat Westfield when the boiler exploded twenty years ago, killing nearly 100 people.

APOSTLE TAYLOR ADOPTS POLYGAMY
DESPITE THE LAW AND CHURCH "DECREE."

"Apostle John W. Taylor, at a time since the manifesto (the Mormon decree prohibiting polygamy), began to visit at a town which can be named, and in a house which can be pointed out. It was noticed that all the family except a certain young lady had business away from home when the church dignitary arrived. In time this young lady became a mother, and, dropping the title 'Miss,' bloomed forth as 'Mrs.' Taylor. The child was 'blessed,' according to the Mormon custom, under the name of Taylor, and the apostle is not the only man who has done the same thing since the manifesto."—From a statement to be issued to-day in the Kinsman, edited by the clergy of Salt Lake City.

Salt Lake, Utah, Jan. 5.—Among the stories that have come to light since President Snow issued his defence of the Mormon Church and of E. H. Roberts, who is slated to represent the organization in Congress, is one that goes to prove the effort that is being made on the part of the highest officials to re-establish the vile practices that people of the East have been told were abolished when Utah was admitted to Statehood.

The Kinsman, a religious paper controlled and edited by the clergy of this city, in its issue of to-morrow will say: "President Snow says that no new polygamous marriages have taken place under the sanction of the Church since the manifesto, and that he will not permit such a thing, etc. Then there is some dodge by which the same relations contemplated in the revelation of plural marriages is being entered into by Latter Day Saints.

"Apostle John W. Taylor, who created such a sensation in a recent conference by charges of immorality against the Mormon people in general, and in particular against the Tabernacle choir, and afterward made the matter worse by attempting to pass it off as a joke over an aching wisdom tooth—Apostle John W. Taylor, in time, since the manifesto, began to visit at a town, which can be named, and in a house which can be pointed out. It was noticed that all the family except a certain young lady always had business away from home when the church dignitary arrived. In due time this young lady became a mother, and, dropping the title 'Miss,' bloomed forth as 'Mrs.' Taylor. The child was 'blessed,' according to Mormon custom under the name of Tayor. And the virtuous Apostle is not the only man who has done the same thing since the manifesto.

"President Snow says that it is only a question of a little time until all that belongs to polygamy will cease. But he ought to know that Apostle Heber J. Grant told the young people at Logan recently that he 'felt to sustain the principles of the Gospel, even to the extent of taking more wives if necessary.' He knows that his own second counselor, Joseph F. Smith, drew out the testimony of the old people at the birthday anniversary of the Prophet on the point of polygamy 'for the special benefit of the young saints.'"

"These things seem to be in favor of the ceasing of polygamy with a vengeance."

PROTEST FROM THE
BINGHAMTON CLERGY.

Binghamton, Jan. 6.—It is the consensus of opinion among Binghamton ministers that Representative-elect Roberts, of Utah, who is to take his seat in the House of Representatives, should be debarred. They say that though the battle has once been fought and polygamy thought to be stamped out, it is spreading like a cancerous growth over the entire country, and radical measures are necessary to eliminate it.

Dr. G. Parson Nichols, pastor of the First Presbyterian Church and one of the leading divines of the State, said: "That man must have a great deal of nerve to appear at Washington and apply for admission. It demonstrates that the people of Utah are not in earnest in their promises to root out polygamy, and this is a direct challenge to the nation. There were other capable men they could have elected who were not polygamists, but they chose this man to make the test case, and we must face the issue."

Dr. Henry Tuckley, pastor of the Centenary Methodist Episcopal Church, said now was the opportunity for the nation to rise and determine the question by legislation. It should be faced at once and stamped out before it had infected the country and ensnared the people. It would not be a fight in opposition to a creed, but a contest for a great principle which is to keep pure our homes and those of our children.

Rev. F. H. Cooper, pastor of the Main Street Baptist Church, said that Roberts was living in open defiance of our laws, and no man should be admitted to the national legislature who was a law-breaker and prided himself in it.

VIEWS OF MANY GOVERNORS
AS TO STATE LEGISLATION.

THE messages of five new Governors were read before their respective legislative assemblies yesterday. Retiring Governor Holcomb, of Nebraska, also sent in a message. Following are recommendations from the documents, showing some of the things they consider desirable in State legislation:

GOVERNOR PINGREE, MICHIGAN—

Bring railroads and other corporations under the general tax law and repeal such charters as give special immunities from taxation. Let the State acquire the railroads.

Tax incomes which are in excess of $1,000 a year.

Nominate all candidates by direct vote of the people.

GOVERNOR POWERS, MAINE—

Exempt no property from taxation.

Strengthen the National Guard.

Be economical.

GOVERNOR HOLCOMB, NEBRASKA—

Pass a law making speedy adjudication in courts of railway cases possible.

Regulate the insurance companies more strictly and tax foreign corporations more heavily.

GOVERNOR WOLCOTT, MASSACHUSETTS—

Be economical.

Treat the soldiers liberally.

Prohibit assessment insurance in the State.

Raise the salaries of Judges.

GOVERNOR ROLLINS, NEW HAMPSHIRE—

Reduce the State tax.

Make a money allowance to heroes of the Spanish war.

Build good roads.

Have a State exhibit at the Paris Exposition.

GOVERNOR MOUNT, OF INDIANA—

Make counties in which lynching occurs liable for damages to next of kin.

Make arbitration of labor difficulties compulsory.

BOY ENTOMBED IN ICE.

Boys Solve the Mystery of a Missing
Man While Out Skating.

Fort Plain, N. Y., Jan. 5.—While skating on the Erie Canal, a short distance above the lock here, this afternoon, a number of boys discovered a man frozen solidly in the ice. The body was lying face downward, and but a small portion of the dead man's clothing was free from ice. The work of recovering the body required several hours. The body proved to be that of David Van-wie, who formerly lived here with his son, Alonzo Vanwie, now a resident of Columbia, Pa.
The dead man had been missing about four weeks.

SUNDAY FINES ARE A SPECIAL FAVOR.

Judge McCarter decided at Newark yesterday that Sunday fines are legal. George W. Johnson had sued the town of Montclair to recover $108, the amount of fines imposed one Sunday upon him and eight others, who were arrested early Sunday morning for disorderly conduct. The town maintained that the fines were legal, and that a special favor had been shown in fining the men on Sunday instead of holding them until Monday.
